

U.S. SHOULD CONTROL WAR PLANTS, SAYS T.R.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Governmental control of munition plants as well as universal military training are advocated by Colonel Roosevelt as fundamental steps in a national preparedness program in a copyrighted article in the Evening Mail today.

His munition corporations should be encouraged by the Government, Colonel Roosevelt said, but the Government should exercise a control that would make it certain that their employees received a fair share of the profits.

The plan should be as widely supervised as possible, he said, and none should be located east of Pittsburgh because of possible danger of capture by a foreign power invading the Atlantic seaboard.

Colonel Roosevelt said he advocates the Swiss compulsory method because he believes it the only proper system for a democratic nation.

In any program of national preparedness, the colonel said, it is necessary first to establish social and business preparedness in times of peace. True United States, he said, has much to learn from Germany in industrial and social efficiency.

Colonel Roosevelt also urged the necessity of proper control and regulation of industry as a constructive step toward preparedness.

"DIXIE MINSTRELS" TO REHEARSE TODAY

Seventy members of the National Press Club, who will take part in an old-time "Dixie minstrel show" at Poli's Theater on the evening of December 20, will have their first stage try-out at Keith's Theater at 6 o'clock this evening, though this chorus has been rehearsing for almost a month.

Tickets will be sold only to club members, and their sale will be under the direction of Ralph Graves, business manager of the show. Several original songs, with words and music by members of the club, will form part of the program, and the olio, with its singing and dancing features, will be followed by a black-face cabinet meeting, a feature which was written by James Hay, Jr.

Frank B. Lord, president of the club, will be interloper, and the chorus and orchestra will be led by Howard L. Acton. Novel features are promised by those in charge, though in its general outline the show will be in harmony with the traditions of negro minstrelsy.

This will be the first entertainment the club has attempted since the now famous spelling bee between newspapermen and members of Congress was given two years ago.

GOCKELER HONORED BY BOARD OF TRADE

More than 175 members of the Board of Trade, with many members of Congress, assembled at the Willard last night to pay tribute to the achievements of C. J. Gockeler, recently retired secretary of the board.

After Cuno H. Rudolph, a former president of the board had presented Mr. Gockeler with a handsome watch, E. C. French, president and chairman of the board, introduced numerous speakers, who divided their attention between a laudation of Mr. Gockeler's work and the future of Washington.

Senator Allen Pomerene professed his willingness to cloak the citizens of the District with the rights of citizenship, and Senator George E. Chamberlain expressed the opinion that the District should have in the halls and at the doors of Congress, "morning, noon, and night," a representative to see that the District gets what belongs to it.

John Joy Edson and Theodore W. Noyes found in the tribute an inspiration for the young men of the city, on whom they declared the future welfare of the Capital rests.

Other speakers were Congressman B. E. Windlow of Massachusetts, Joshua Evans, Jr., William T. Gallier, Col. Robert S. Harper, Edwin F. Colladay, and Odell S. Smith.

Physician Goes to Prison For Violating Drug Act

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Dr. Arthur Blunt, who was sixty-one yesterday, was sentenced by Judge Landis to serve two years in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth and pay a fine of $2,000, for violation of the Harrison anti-drug act. Dr. Blunt is the first physician to be convicted and sentenced under the new law. It was shown he sold 20,000 prescriptions for drugs in a period of six months after the law went into effect.

William A. Wallace, a druggist, who was tried with Blunt as the man who filled the prescriptions, was sentenced to five years and a fine of $10,000. Both men are held pending an appeal.
